

BRAZIL

COPA AMERICA 2024 - USA

Brazil will play in its 38th edition of the CONMEBOL Copa America this summer, adding one more chapter to this rich history through legends that came before. Brazil is the 3rd winningest team in Copa America history. They won their first title in 1919 when they hosted the tournament and won the last title at home again in 2019. This won't be easy with missing key players due to injuries and not being called up on the roster to represent their country.

RECORD:

Best result: Winners (9 times, first in 1991; last in 2019)

PREDICTION:

Brazil are predicted to come out on top of this group but their recent struggles in World Cup qualifying and coaching troubles may have an impact on how well they do. They have the attacking depth, the defense, and the midfield to be great this summer but it all depends on if they can find form again and put it all together. They are still predicted to come out of the group-stage and make it far. (+225 odds)

PLAYERS TO WATCH:

VINICIUS JUNIOR

(Real Madrid & Brazil), the 23 year-old has made a name for himself in La Liga playing for Real Madrid and as a Brazil starter. He is known for his pace, finishing, quick skills, and dribbling around defenders.

RODRYGO

(Real Madrid & Brazil), the 23 year-old that also plays for Real Madrid in La Liga will link up with Vinicius Junior again this summer to help Brazil out on the attack. His speed and work rate will certainly help Brazil out.
